

Fast Developing Perkinson Tract

A deed of bargain and sale has been recorded at the office of the clerk of the court showing the purchase by J. W. and H. J. Keeling, from J. E. Perkinson, of 62 feet on Carolina avenue for $3,800.

The property in question embraces a two-story frame residence and basement and is perhaps the first residence built in the section south of West Main street and west of the intersection of West Main and Mount Vernon avenue, with the exception of the Morrison residence (former Wm. Smith home), at West Main and College avenue. The residence was recently put in a better state of repair by Mr. Perkinson, who is developing the property westward of that just transferred to College avenue and southward along College avenue to Watson street which was recently extended. Granolithic sidewalks and curbing and gutters have been laid and the streets graded.

Already a two-story frame residence is going up at College avenue and Watson street and the lines have been marked for another fronting on College avenue and north of the one mentioned. A brick and frame residence is under construction at the east corner of Carolina avenue and College avenue, the site being part of the property recently disposed of by Perkinson in developing this tract. Future development westward of College avenue and along Carolina avenue and Watson street, which parallel each other and this is expected to extend westward to the Miller development of Howland Circle as soon as satisfactory arrangements for sewage disposal can be concluded with the city.

OLD OFFENDER AND GALLON AND HALF ARE BROUGHT IN

A big, tall negro named James Morton, having been in the Hill road not far from the city limits, was arrested last night by Police Sergeant J. H. Martin and Patrolmen Dameron and Bowles and County Officer J. W. Pugh and is held in jail to face a charge of violating the liquor laws by the way, is his fourth offense. When Morton was brought in, Police Detective J. N. Campbell, having arrested him once and seized a large quantity of liquor in his possession in the county, and was tried and convicted at that time. When Morton was brought in last night and searched he stood before the officers silent, but with a sheepish grin during the process. Accompanying the prisoner, the officers brought three half gallon jars of spirits, one of which from its pungent and uninviting odor might be the stuff. This exhibit was carefully set aside to be used at the trial. The sergeant had received a tip that a wagon-load of lawless liquor was on the way to Morton, and collecting his party of raiding officers they swooped down on the house like a wolf on the fold. Diligent search finally revealed the three containers with their alcoholic contents under the house. If more liquor was delivered to Morton than that seized in the glass containers, a diligent search failed to reveal its whereabouts.

THE BUSINESS WOMEN'S CIRCLE HAVE A DINNER

The business women's circle of the First Presbyterian church, despite the unfavorable weather, enjoyed one of their occasional dinners which are a pleasing feature of this efficient organization in the dining room of the church last evening, with a goodly attendance of the members and with the pastor, Dr. Joseph Dugan and wife as guests of honor. The tables had been decorated for the occasion with jonquils and other early blossoms and the warm, well lighted and flower-adorned room presented an appearance and a condition in sharp contrast to the belated wintry weather without. An excellent menu well prepared and attractively served and a social hour around the board were enjoyed by all present.

Council Allows Salary Increases; Approves Bonds

Frank McFall and B. J. Hurd were last night elected members of the city council to succeed L. B. Conway and W. E. Perkinson, who have attended their last meetings and who pronounced their valedictories. The nominations and elections were gone into near the close of a meeting notable for the surprise it contained and the swiftness with which business was disposed of. F. W. Townes put in nomination the name of Mr. McFall and W. E. Gardner nominated Mr. Hurd. Mr. McFall is assigned to the committee on public welfare and Mr. Hurd goes to that on public works.

The council last night granted a handful of salary increases and in the same breath topped $1,800 per annum off the pay of the mayor. It went on record as approving not only the $350,000 bond issue for the improvement of schools, but also $50,000 for the extension of the sewer system and $100,000 for street widening, the emphatic expression from the school board that there be no "entangling alliances" and that the school bond issue stand alone before the people on June 10th when they will vote for a mayor of a new council. The salary adjustment came in a recommendation from the finance committee which was kept as a deep secret. The salary of the mayor was reduced to $500 per annum that is to say, the city will pay that official $500 instead of $1,800 as in the few years, leaving the full benefit of fees which accrue to him through the office of magistrate of the police court. Mayor Wooding's net fees last year totalled $4,300, so that with the city's flat contribution of $500 he will earn in the neighborhood of $5,000 for the office of mayor and police court justice.

Chief of Police, James R. Bell won a raise of $360 per annum last night, his salary being set at $2,400 per annum. Fire Chief Lewis Mitchell who it is understood did not ask for a salary increase, was placed on a par with the chief of police and his salary is made $2,400 per annum. At present he draws $2,140. Another numbered among the lucky last night was James C. Elliott, police secretary who has restored order from the chaos of police bookkeeping within a year and who has placed the fiscal affairs of the whole police department on a firm footing with the cooperation of City Auditor, R. P. Moss. Mr. Elliott won a salary increase of $200, his salary being made $2,000 per annum. The salary of the city auditor and clerk of the council, R. P. Moss also was increased $500 per annum and he will during the coming term draw $4,500 per annum. A new method of paying the city collector in monthly installments also was agreed upon, this on the basis of $3,600 per annum which does not represent any increase over last year.

After last night's meeting had been opened with prayer by Rev. O. A. Guinn the rules were suspended to hear from the school board. Mrs. A. D. Keen, president of the school board, T. S. Williamson, Dr. J. C. Harrison and W. C. Griggs, superintendent of schools were present and all were heard from. Mr. Williamson in presenting the bond issue proposal said that the resolution adopted by that body asking for the issue provided that it be independent of any other bond issue. The board, he stated, could manage to get along with $200,000 this year with the remaining $150,000 next year. The first grant he declared, was that of a Junior high school which would probably consume from $150,000 to $175,000. This school would relieve the grammar schools since two grades would be eliminated and one grade would be taken from the High school thus easing the congestion in all of the schools. The rebuilding of Westmoreland School was cited as the second most important piece of work needed because of its danger as a risk also its crowded condition. This would cost from $30,000 to $60,000. The third project would be the renovation of Bellevue school. Mr. Williamson asked especially that the school bond issue be not jeopardized by attaching any other bond issue to it. He pointed out, he was emphatic on this point and it would be for that no other bonds be voted on that day. Superintendent Griggs added a word to what Mr. Williamson had said and brought out for the first time that the physical decay of some of the school buildings something which needs attention and that part of the bond issue money would be spent in rehabilitating these buildings. That the school board may have a use for the present almshouse building was indicated at a interstice by Mr. Williamson who asked the council not to dispose of it at the present time. Mrs. Keen spoke briefly and expressed the earnest and sincere desire of the school board to do the best thing it could for all of the children and furthermore that the board was asking for the smallest amount possible to meet the local emergency.

The regular order of business was resumed at this point and the finance committee report bearing on the salary increases and other matters was taken up. The sum of $6,000 to provide for the deficit in the garbage department was appropriated and the resolution calling on the name of the corporation court to call a special election on June 10th for a half million dollar bond issue for schools, streets and sewers was adopted without discussion. Mr. Gardner in presenting the matter saw no danger in coupling the school and sewer issues with that of streets, it being pointed out that each issue would be voted on separately.

The committee last night formally granted the city budget for the next fiscal year. The anticipated city income next fiscal year will be $1,027,080.47. The appropriations made in the budget total $1,095,054, leaving a balance of $1,925.47. The summary shows that the finance committee would dispose of $755,253 of the total income, the public welfare committee would expend $73,318 and the public works committee $236,502. The budget was ordered to lie on file.

A special report from the public works committee provided means of financing the sewerage, sidewalks and gutters of Howland circle, a new land development. This work estimates show would cost $27,546. The finance plan recommended is that Dr. E. H. Miller advance a part of the money, $5,316 without interest, this to be repaid within three years provided 25 houses have been built. Dr. Miller would also pay two-thirds of the cost of laying the sidewalk curbing and guttering the cost which would be $11,153. His participation part to be advanced when the sewerage is commenced. Dr. Miller would further advance to the city half of the cost of the sewer from Howland circle to Jackson's branch, where it

YOUR GARDEN

GARDEN FLOWERS

Your garden should not be without flowers after sufficient allowance for food has been made.

You can plant them either in formal patterns in the yard or in a decorative bordering in the vegetable plot.

Full-foliage plants which grow to considerable height serve as attractive screens for fences, objectionable views and other obtrusive objects. They may also be arranged against buildings.

Castor-beans, sorghums and sunflowers are included for this purpose. For the rented dwelling, annual plants may be cheaply grown in a sub-station for exposure to the sun.

However, it must be borne in mind, that the first killing frost will obliterate whatever landscape effect they produce. Hence they should be sown as early as possible in order to gain the longest lasting bloom.

Soil for annuals should be well supplied with every possible plant food. It should be well drained and of such character to permit retention of reasonably large quantities of moisture.

Feasibly the best average soil for most of these plants can be prepared from a light, rich loam well mixed with rotted manure.

The best practice is to make the bed of suitable depth and then fill it with the enriched earth.

Use of rotted stable manure, hen manure, prepared sheep and cow manure (obtainable from florists or any agricultural supply house), cottonseed meal or bone meal or related value in the order named, is of value in the order named, is of value in the order named.

of which would be $11,000, this to be paid within 3 years provided 25 houses have been built by that time. J. E. Perkinson would be required to advance the city one-fourth of the cost of the sewer main to Jackson's branch for a period of three years without interest. The public works committee report also authorized Thomas Oakley permission to enter Stokes street to connect with a sewer and an ordinance granting special parking privileges to the Yellow Cab Company was adopted. An ordinance fixing the transfer rates for car drivers was also adopted, the rate being 50 cents per person by day and 75 cents at night.

The public welfare report announced the election of Mrs. J. C. Boisseau as member of the City Board of Health. An additional sum of $300 was appropriated for the Health Department to make possible the trade of an automobile for a Ford. An ordinance bearing on the examination of cows for tuberculosis was adopted, this exempting such animals whose milk is sold as buttermilk. An ordinance providing for the more systematic disinfecting of drinking vessels at soft drink stands was adopted.

While the election of three school trustees was on the docket last night, W. Tredway Gravelly moved that the elections be passed by until the April meeting. The terms of the outgoing members expire April 1st and the next council meeting will be held on April 10th. The letter from the Danville Traction and Power Company, requesting a five cent fare experiment was read to the council and the report of the grand jury on jail conditions was read. The president of the council remarked that he had been informed by the judge that the council could have to see that the jailers noted would have to be made. Councilman Gravelly who was a member of the grand jury, said that it would be a good thing if the council would visit the jail. He complained of the enforced idleness of the prisoners in an uncertain term. Councilman Gravelly said that he thought the prisoners should be put to work somewhere in the city and if not they should be exercised in the jail yard. Councilman Harrison suggested that the prisoners be worked and given pay the sum earned to be held in trust for redemption after a certain period of liberty. He, too, felt that the prisoners should be worked. Col. Carrington observed that men working in the city streets wearing a ball and chain was a disgusting sight but Mr. Harrison's suggestion was referred to the public works committee for a report.

Just before the close of the council meeting, Mr. Conway asked to be excused and withdrew after graciously acknowledging past courtesies and expressing a very good wish for the severance of ties of friendship formed by the collaborative efforts in administration of the city's affairs. Mr. Harrison whose resignation was accepted also withdrew. Col. Carrington thanking him for his loyal service.

Matters presented by the clerk included a petition from Miss Annie Baum and Mrs. M. O. Nelson asking permission from the council to rear in the triangular park at the intersection of East Main and James Street a memorial to the late Rev. J. E. Moffett, which promises to be handsome.

Building permits presented last night totalled more than $105,000 and included one which gave for the first time information as to the extent of the investment made by the Leggett-McCrea Company in adding to its Craghead street plant. This, according to the building permit is to cost $55,000 but is probably ultra conservative estimates on buildings being usually given in the lowest figure on these permits.

INFANT GIRL DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Little Frances, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Martin, of Danville, Va., died at the family home at 10 P. M. Saturday after a brief illness. Despite medical attention and the devotion of parents and friends, the little girl was unable to withstand the disease. Funeral services were conducted at the Southern Methodist church at 3 p. m. yesterday by the Rev. C. C. Holland, and the little casket was interred in the Voss burial-ground at Zealand.

Miss Rickman Won First Honors at Carnival of Elks

The carnival put on last week under the auspices and for the benefit of the Danville Lodge No. 227, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks really closed Saturday night, but the official announcement of the award of the capital prizes was not made until last night. The report of Messrs. James Bustard and J. Nelson Benton, tellers who canvassed the vote in the prize contests, was as follows, in brief:

Winner of Ford Coupe and Queen of the Carnival, Miss Bertha Rickman, who received 1,205,475 votes.

Winner of $250 suite of living-room furniture and first maid of honor, Mrs. C. E. Rawley, of Pelham, N. C., 1,082,975 votes.

Winner of $50-gold prize, and second maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Smith, 643,225 votes.

In view of the fact that a fourth contestant, Miss Elizabeth Woolley, ran close to Miss Smith in the vote, the management of the carnival decided to award her a $50 prize also. The coronation ball which began about 10 P. M. and continued until after 1 A. M. attracted some seventy couples to the floor. Miss Rickman was presented with the crown, a beautiful corsage and the key to her new car by S. W. Collier, chairman of the Entertainment committee of the lodge.

Seeds for flowers may be sown a depth of three feet and on the bottom place a layer of crushed stone covered by inverted sods. Over this foundation place your soil.

Soils for flowers may be sown broadcast or in rows. But the inexperienced gardener had best plant them in rows.

This applies especially for slow germinating seeds liable to be mistaken for weeds and pulled up.

Flower seeds grow best in soil having slight, rather than excessive moisture. The soil should be mellow and protected from drying winds.

The beginner will probably obtain best results by starting his flowers in window boxes, hotbeds or cold-frames.

Construction of these devices has been explained in a foregoing chapter. Their use when properly employed will hasten the period of bloom by almost two weeks.

TOMORROW: More flower facts.

MANY INVESTIGATIONS ON IN U. S. CAPITAL

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Before the end of the week there will be in full blast the largest number of investigations of charges involving official misconduct and sinister influence that ever were undertaken in the history of the republic.

The outstanding impression is that the surface has barely been scraped up to date and that the country will be even more deeply shocked by the revelations of corruption and intrigue centering in Washington, which are in store.

Here is a birdseye view of the inquiries in progress:

1.—The Teapot Dome committee of the Senate will pursue the trail of the oil corruptionists, questioning in this connection Leonard Wood, Jr., who says Jake Hamon, of Oklahoma, the late oil millionaire, offered to support General G. O. H. Smith for nomination for President in the 1920 Republican National Convention provided General Wood would agree to appoint Hamon secretary of the interior.

2.—The Senate committee investigating Attorney General Daugherty will open its inquiry with the examination of Mexican border witnesses alleged to have knowledge of support given the "La Lucha" revolution against the Obregon government by American oil interests and of the movement of Justice to allow the smuggling of munitions of war to the revolutionists.

3.—The judiciary committee of the House will recommend a course of procedure to be adopted by that body to determine whether there is basis for the prosecution of Representatives Langley and Zihlman, whose names have been connected with the charges mentioned in the Chicago grand jury report.

4.—A committee of the house will commence investigation of the Shipping Board with particular reference to charges of the waste of enormous funds, graft and the manipulation of property sales and contracts in the interests of friends.

5.—Secretary of State Hughes will transmit to senate copies of correspondence relating to oil concessions sought by American interests in Colombia, Mesopotamia, Persia and other parts of the world and the Teapot Dome committee will examine the documents in connection with the Sinclair and Doheny and also in search of light on the rumors that American oil interests put over the $25,000,000 Colombia treaty and divided the first payment of $5,000,000.

6.—The treasury and other departments will transmit to the senate the names of former cabinet officers who have represented clients seeking refunds, abatements, adjustments or other favors from the government.

7.—The Teapot Dome committee, if permission is granted by President Coolidge, will inspect the income tax returns of Albert B. Fall, Harry F. Sinclair, E. L. Doheny and others connected with the oil scandal in search of more light on the Sinclair and Doheny payments to Fall.

8.—An investigation of charges of corruption in the collection of income taxes, involving large corporations as durominent Democratic and Republican politicians wielding influence under the Wilson and Harding administrations is expected to materialize as a result of a resolution introduced by Senator Coughens (Republican, Michigan).

During the early part of the week interest will center on the inquiry into stories that a ring of oil operators had planned a raid on government oil resources as early as 1912 and was active in the national conventions of both parties in schemes to manipulate the nominations in the interest of their plot. The most definite stories have related to the Republican convention and have been to the effect that the oil operators sought to make a deal first with Wood, then with Lowden and finally with Harding whereby two cabinet officers including the secretary of the interior were to be named who were satisfactory to the oil interests.

In consideration of such a promise the oil crowd was to throw its delegates to the candidate for the nomination who agreed to the terms. Hamon was supposed to control about 100 delegates, chiefly from Oklahoma, Missouri and Texas.

One of the Ohio leaders reported to have detected the operators of these alleged conspirators in the Republican convention is Robert F. Wolfe, owner of the Ohio State Journal and Chairman of the Ohio State Wolfe, according to the report brought to the Teapot Dome committee, said during the convention that the interests bent on grabbing valuable natural resources controlled by the government were actually endeavoring to swing the nomination in the direction that would benefit their scheme. Mr. Wolfe has been subpoenaed for examination by the committee this week.

Attorney General Daugherty is still standing pat, refusing to resign voluntarily and insists that he will not quit unless President Coolidge puts a request to that effect in writing.

It is not doubted that Mr. Daugherty will be out of the cabinet soon and the only question is when his exit will be effected. It is clear that the President desires to be relieved of the attorney general he inherited from Mr. Harding and has even gone so far as to canvass the field for a successor to Mr. Daugherty, though still hesitating to demand the resignation.

What will bring about the retirement of the attorney general remains to be seen. It may be a fresh revelation of questionable conduct or indiscretions, like his speculation in Sinclair oil stock after entering the cabinet.

So far as the disclosures up to date are concerned, however, the attorney general, in the opinion of his friends is in a stronger position today than at any time since the breaking of the oil scandal. It is asserted in behalf of Mr. Daugherty that the telegram in which he and his aides communicated with E. B. McLean at Palm Beach are no more incriminating than the White House messages to McLean which the White House asserts are devoid of any sinister implication.

It is also evident that friends of Mr. Coolidge have been disillusioned by the disclosure that the President was consulting with McLean and his friends concerning District of Columbia appointments. McLean has been a trouble-maker in local affairs for years and has hounded several efficient officers who were performing their duties meritoriously. McLean had the inside track while President Harding was alive and set out to capture Mr. Coolidge. Until the disclosure of the White House telegram, it was widely believed that Mr. Coolidge had determined to ignore McLean. One of the aims of McLean was to prevent the reappointment of District Commissioner Oyster whose name McLean never mentions in his newspaper articles. It is also evident that McLean, Rudolph and Oyster last night and the Post today reported the reappointment of Mr. Rudolph and "the commissioner in charge of the police."

Snow Fails to Dampen Interest In Psychology

The lecture on Practical Psychology given by Mrs. Alice Towell Strong at Masonic Temple last night drew a surprisingly large audience in spite of the heavy downfall of snow. Her subject was "Building Better Brains." Mrs. Strong stated that it is not the lecturer who gives the lecture but the audience from whom comes the inspiration and the speaker, in possession of the technique, or frame work on which the thought is presented, gives back to them in a word picture the truth evolved from the group.

Opening with the new psychology slogan, "I am fine and dandy, why shouldn't I be?" to which there was a hearty response, and reminding those present of the first requisite step toward receiving the good of life, namely to sit up and breathe deeply because the law of health demands there should be two cubic inches of lung capacity for every pound of weight, she gave the three unqualified promises given by the psychologist to every one who will learn to do according to the rules. The promises are: Health, happiness, long life, because it is natural to be well, if sick, to get well and may well be.

According to the laws of biology the human body is built to last 150 years and if the laws of nature are obeyed, age should be as beautiful and natural a process as the growing and ripening of grain, or the fruit on the tree. The New Psychology differs from old in that it does not deal with the science of living from an academic standpoint, but from the standpoint of human personality.

The personality of the individual is determined by his reaction to his environment and it is possible to bring into actual existence of which the mind can conceive, for "man is mind" possessed of a body, or house, in which mind dwells. The brain is one of the tools used by the mind but is not the mind itself as many suppose.

Every human being is born into the world with exactly the same number of brain cells, but it is the treatment these cells receive that determines their efficiency and growth. It is entirely possible to build brains to order when one knows how and there is no age limit. While it is true that the best brains are young children, any person at any time may begin the building of an entirely new set of brain cells and may realize the accomplishment of their desire. The requisite is exercise of those cells of mind, for a normal person is already in possession.

How to exercise the brain cells, and how to construct a set of strong and efficient cells, with which the Master of Mind may build a life of health, happiness and success, is what the psychologist undertakes to teach. In these lectures an outline of the method is given. In the class which will follow the free lectures, beginning Saturday night, the details of the method will be given.

For Relief After Tense Day

By JANE BELLOWES
Athletic Director, National Board
Y. W. C. A. and Arthur of "Individual Exercises"

(1) Stand on hands and knees, "bumping" the back and shoulders at cash fashion at the same time contracting abdomen and gluteal muscles.

(2) Then relax and hollow the back letting shoulders down but without bending elbows.

This exercise is excellent for relaxation after a tense, nervous day. It gives a long stretch to the muscles of the back. It should be avoided by people suffering from pain or stiffness in the neck and shoulders.

HELPFUL HINTS

HOLD THE COLOR
Soak your handkerchiefs with colored borders in salt water before you wash them and the colors will become set.

TO CLEAN SILVER
Table silver that is badly tarnished may be cleaned by putting in a pan of water covered with a strong solution of borax, washing soda or potash and bringing it to a boiling point. Let it boil for about 20 minutes and stay in the solution until cold. Then rinse and wipe with a soft cloth or chambray.

AVOID WRINKLES
After removing clothes from the line fold them carefully before you put them away. If crumpled into the clothes basket there are more wrinkles to remove.

HELPS WRINKLES
A clothes horse on which to hang clothes after ironing them is essential so that the garments may be well aired and absolutely dry before storing away in closets or dresser drawers.

PLAY SAFE
Have your rings examined occasionally to see that the settings still hold.

FOR HEALTH'S SAKE
It is as essential to clean the garbage pail by washing and drying it as it is to keep the receptacles for food clean.

REMOVE RINGS
You should always remove your rings before washing your hands as soap is very apt to get in the small crevices and to hold the dust that creeps in later.

SODA AS CLEANER
Keep your kitchen sink free from grease by putting a lump of soda in it every day or two and then flushing with hot water.

DISTRIBUTE BLEUING
If water is very hard it is difficult to distribute the bluing for laundry. Put a cupful of sweet skimmed milk in the water before putting in the bluing.

JERSEY DRESSES
Jersey dresses for spring are frequently banded and piped in a darker shade.

Corns
Don't Pare Them!

Cutting a corn is always dangerous. Blue-jay ends corns. Kills the pain instantly, then the corn loosens and comes out. No risk, no constant trouble. Get Blue-jay at your druggist.

Y. W. C. A. Directors Meet
The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Young Women's Christian Association was held on Saturday afternoon, with Mrs. Rucker Penn president, the association, in the chair. The attendance was unusually large. Owing to the resignation of Miss Sallie Haslins, who was recently elected treasurer of the Y. W. C. A., to succeed Mrs. George C. Fenton, the first treasurer of the association whose period of service had expired, the election of a new treasurer was in order. Miss Maud Woodward was unanimously elected treasurer. Miss Sallie Haslins elected to withdraw from the office because of ill health and her resignation was accepted with regret by everyone on the board.

The reports given by the General Secretary, Mrs. Estelle J. Hinchliffe, the Industrial Secretary and the Girl's Work Secretary as well as the excellent reports of the standing committees gave some idea of the scope of the work and the type of development of the girl whether she be a business girl, an industrial girl or a home girl. Adequate equipment to develop the heavy program carried by the staff is brought ever before the board. One has only to visit the Y. W. C. A. rooms to realize the congested condition of the place.

Both Mrs. Achibald D. Keen, chairman of the Tea Room Committee and Mrs. Estelle J. Hinchliffe, General Secretary, gave reports of the Blue Triangle, a community need. Mrs. S. Y. Taylor gave an enthusiastic report of the membership canvass during the recent canvass and in addition the recent canvass of 125 Girl Reserves making a total membership of 800 and many have promised to become members in the future. The membership committee was most diligent in their house to house canvass.

Mrs. W. T. Hughes, chairman of the Religious Education Committee, in her report spoke of the Lenten Bible class to meet each Tuesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. at 4 o'clock. Six ministers, each one taking for his theme a woman of the Bible, will conduct the class. Mrs. Hughes urges large attendance at the class. The invitation is extended to everyone to be a part of these Lenten talks.

Mrs. Raymond Hall announced the time for the annual membership banquet. Those who attended the banquet last year remember it as one of the most delightful affairs ever given at the Y. W. C. A. Hall. The banquet plan this year and her committee plan to have a banquet equal to that of last year. The Hospitality Committee announces the banquet for March 25th at 7 o'clock in the Tea Room. Every member is to be invited to this promising affair. The enthusiasm, interest and co-operation of the entire Board was most encouraging to the new president, Mrs. Rucker Penn, as she assumes the duties and responsibilities of her office.

Girls' Council Here Musical
The Musical given by the Young Women's Christian Association Monday evening by a few members of the Westbrook Music Company was an artistic as well as a delightful event. The hostesses of the evening were the members of the Business Girls' Council of the Y. W. C. A. This group is made up of the young business girls and is actively interested in the life of the association. Any young woman is eligible to membership in the club. The program on Monday evening consisted of selections on stringed instruments, the violin numbers by Mr. Richard Penn, and the piano numbers by Miss Serenide. The program was enthusiastically received. "For You Alone" by Mr. John Westbrook, selections on the Hawaiian guitar were beautiful in the extreme. One has only to hear Mr. Souza in his Chopin numbers to realize what a true artist he is. Only those who had the good fortune to be invited to enjoy the evening of music planned by Miss Mary Thompson and Miss Margaret Jordan, advisors for the Business Girls' Council can realize what a real treat was given them.

Club To Give Play
For the Jun-Sen "G" Club Girl Reserves have been practicing the play to be given on Friday evening in the Elks Hall. There will be three short plays rather than one, "Aunt Matilda's Birthday Party," "The Wrong Baby," "Men Not Wanted." These are clever little plays and will afford an evening of pleasant entertainment. Tickets are on sale at the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A.

Leap Year Dinner Dance
An event that is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest is the leap year dinner dance which will be given by the ladies of the Golf club, Saturday evening, March 16, at 7:30 o'clock, at the club.

All the ladies of the club are expected to be present and it is hardly possible to suppose that any gentleman member would fail to be present on such a delightful occasion. Those who expect to attend are requested to communicate with some member of the committee by noon on Friday. The committee are: Mesdames O. B. Roach, W. W. Waddill, Jr., Archibald D. Keen, John Schoolfield, Jr., Eugene Noell, Berkely Carrington, Jr., Ralph Linville.

Meetings of the various Missionary societies claimed the attention of the women yesterday afternoon as is customary on Mondays, and in spite of bad weather, the attendance was good. Routine business was attended to and some time was given to the study of Missions.

Lenten service at Epiphany church was conducted by Dr. J. Cleveland Hall, rector, Emeritus, at 5:30 p. m. The marriage of Miss Lucile Herman and Ralph Wallenstein, which will be celebrated tomorrow night at Beth Sholem synagogue will be the leading event of the week.

Today at 1:30 o'clock Mrs. Allen Herman, sister of the bride-elect, gave a bridge luncheon in honor of Miss Herman.

The student-concerts given at Averett College and Randolph-Macon Institute last night were not largely attended on account of the bad weather, but excellent programs were rendered and enjoyed by those who were so fortunate as to be present.

There will be a meeting of the Graduate Nurses Association at Edmunds hospital this evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Louise Bureleigh, of Richmond, who has written the pageant which is to be presented, May 12 will be present to complete arrangements for its presentation.

Old Fashioned Choir
The "Old Fashioned Choir" will be presented at Rison Park school next Thursday evening, 8:15 o'clock, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of Cabell Street Memorial church. Tickets may be obtained from the choir, at Cabell, Chasman and Parker's store, 17 D. Anderson Bridge street, or by telephoning No. 2278.

Miss Nunn Is Home But Minus Those Important Papers

Miss Ellen Nunn, of this city, who recently went to Washington in guest of a position as detective, has returned. During her absence in her own words, "glad to be back in civilization." Miss Nunn was interviewed this morning. The national administration is "no good" according to Miss Nunn, and she says the troubles go back to the Wilson administration. This, she avers, she discovered following the course of her stay in Danville. Miss Nunn, however, was less interested in national affairs than she was in what she terms the "shame" of the war in which she was treated. "I took me to Gallinger hospital and there I have been for a month," she said. "I tried to get a job as detective, and they put me in an ambulance and carried me off." Her course of treatment was described as weakening and consisted of hot baths one day and ice cold baths the next. Miss Nunn said that she never did quite understand what they treated her for, but that she was very weak when she emerged. She produced a string label which she stated had been attached to her in the hospital and which bore her name and the following words: "For mental observation."

Miss Nunn declared she was not quite certain what she would do. She plans to recover her strength which, at normal stage is something which would make Jack Dempsey look like a baby. One of her present difficulties is the fact that the precious diploma she won after a correspondence course in how to become a full-blooded detective has been kept by the Washington authorities. She wrote to her congressman, J. M. Hoover, about it today and has asked him to make a personal enquiry in which the Washington Department persists in denying her her credentials.

Miss Nunn's observations this morning included Teapot Dome and the possibility of establishing a monarchy in the United States or "something like they have over there in Europe. However, these little matters are troubling her less than the extraordinary treatment she was accorded in Washington where she went to "better myself" and to obtain a detective job.

Greece Recognizes Soviet Russia

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
BERLIN, March 11.—Negotiations between Russia and Greece which have been going on in Berlin for the past three weeks today led to formal recognition of the Soviet Russian government by Greece in a note from the Greek minister, M. Keneleopoulos, to the Russian charge d'affaires M. Assem. The note provides for the immediate resumption of diplomatic relations and a conference on economic relations.

Walton Puts On Real Minstrel at Majestic Theater

Despite the inclement weather a good audience reviewed Boots Walton's miniature musical comedy and minstrel at the Majestic theater last night. The performance, which is not rated as a tabloid, was well received. The bill as presented last night required over an hour it being "crowded full of specialties." It was nothing short of a miniature minstrel which was, to say the least, on a par with some one night minstrels now on the road. There are six blackface comedians, with ten other persons supporting.

The performance opens in regular minstrel style with two four end men who do a lot of specialties and pull jokes most of them new to the audience. A series of specialties then occur. The program, these followed by an unusually clever comedy black face "kit entitled 'mammy's Reception'." There is special scenery for each setting and special electrical effects, especially in the last act. The scene is laid on the shore of a southern river. The water is quietly rippling and the clouds are sailing along. A lighthouse gives the scene an additional realistic touch and with the big moon shining through the sailing clouds a realistic and typical southern scene is presented.

No tab show this season can be classed with Walton's in point of entertainment. It is not an attempt on his part to present a minstrel without the material for he has engaged good talent for the production and it is well worth seeing, for the theatre-goer.

Heavy Snowfall In the Hill City

(By the Associated Press.)
LYNCHBURG, Mar. 11.—A variable blizzard prevailed here last night, when snow fell all night in a high wind and temperature of 25 degrees below zero. The weather station this morning fixed the snowfall at 7.8 inches, 2.2 of which fell during the night. Wire services were badly crippled late during the night and early during morning, but later these services began to see restoration. The storm ended about 9 o'clock and an hour later the sun was making quick work of the snow on the ground.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM PAULA PERIER TO SYDNEY CARTON

MON CHER—
I believe an American woman would have said "My dear friend" at the beginning of this letter, for that is what I feel you are to me. But "Cher Ami" has such a different meaning when the French words are used than when one writes "Dear Friend" in English. That is the reason I say "Mon Cher."

Well, I have seen my beautiful boy. I've held him in my arms. I've felt his little hands upon my throat, and his little soft, wet mouth against my cheek. And oh! I wanted to almost crush his very life out in my caressing arms. And yet, dear friend, I kept the faith. I did not tell my secret to the woman standing by.

From the hungry look in her eyes I am sure she loves the baby as much as I, more, perhaps, for I never had him as long as she has. I have not been able to watch him grow as she has done. Honestly, dear friend, I felt my antagonism evaporate as I looked into the anxious face of that woman standing there.

Some way I had an intuition she has an inkling of the fact that the baby is mine, and yet she said nothing. It was a peculiar situation, my friend; particularly as Miss Prescott told me she was expecting her husband every minute.

Jack Prescott, however, did not come. He was a coward, as he always was. He didn't dare face us, the two women who have loved him, the two women he has wronged, for I can tell him that he has wronged his wife quite as much as he has wronged me.

Oh, I am not blaming him altogether—he was not entirely to blame. He is a man after all, and a man thinks it is his God-given right to take his own where he finds it.

I was quite as willing to give as Jack was to take, and I am not sure that he is not suffering quite as much as I have suffered. I know that if I were a man, I could not look into the face of such a sweet and trusting woman as is Leslie Prescott without feeling like a dog had I married her upon any false pretenses.

She spoke of you, dear friend, told her I had met you in Hollywood, and she asked quite innocently: "Have you never met Sydney Carton before?"

"Oh, yes," I answered, "I've known him a long time. He is the best man, I think, I ever knew."

"I'm glad to hear you say that, because I expect you know him much better than I."

There was a bit of wistful curiosity in her tone. I wonder what she meant.

Of course, everybody in this man's town was more or less crazy to see the new Paula Perier. How the world loves to assemble in the arena and look upon the murdering of a reputation or the agony of a tortured soul!

I disappointed them, though my friend, for it was indeed a new Paula Perier that confronted them—a woman who met them on their own ground, and who asked neither pity nor favor.

I had intended to tell you the whole story, but I find my emotions overcome me. I am only able to say I have given Leslie Prescott my boy.

SWAMP ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of distressing cases. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because it is mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper—adv.

Child-birth

WHEN the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown that the first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend," Mrs. Harman, Scranton, Pa.

"My first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a pain. We had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't sure—only about ten or fifteen minutes. 'Mother's Friend' as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradford Regulator Co., B.A., Atlanta, Ga., for free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. 'Mother's Friend' is sold by all drug stores everywhere.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must keep your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound, mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

RADIO CONTEST ON DRY ISSUE VERY AMUSING

BY J. P. YODER

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)

CHICAGO, Mar. 11.—An avalanche of votes flowing in from every state in the union, from Canada, Cuba and ships at sea, marked the first 24-hours of the straw vote on the light wine and beer issue initiated by the Zenith-Edgewater Beach broadcasting stations. Results thus far would seem to indicate that those in favor of modifying the Volstead law are not in as great a minority as the days seemed to think. Final tabulation of the votes may prove the contrary.

In the meantime, the significant phases of this contest, aside from the question at issue, lies in this demonstration of the practicability of the radio as a means of public referendum. And it is believed that the future will see a far wider use of the radio for similar purposes and along many lines.

Politicians, for example, will inevitably be impressed by this method of obtaining promptly and precisely the pulse of the country.

Following a radio argument on the question of whether or not the existing liquor act should be modified so as to permit the sales of light wines and beer, votes were called for with the inducement of prizes ranging from a thirty-two hundred dollar motor car to the ten dollar head phone for the best reasons pro or con.

Response was immediate. Telegrams literally poured in. At the end of 24 hours nearly twenty thousand dispatches had been received, delivered and counted. Telegraph officials said this was the largest number of telegrams ever delivered to one address in a corresponding period of time.

Sunday night thirty-six thousand had been received but not all were included in the vote because of violations of the rules of the contest which had been approved by both wets and dries. For instance, early Sunday afternoon there was one of sixteen hundred words signed by six hundred "dry" men and women with "For Wine, and I have driven them," they admitted this smacked too much of organized propaganda and was against the purpose of the vote. It was, accordingly, thrown out. All others signed by more than a single name were also thrown out. Both in the count and as to the chance of a prize.

Kenneth Rogers wired from Los Angeles, Calif., and simply, "I am dry." There was something about the telegram which suggested the sender might be setting down a complaint, although, of course, there was also a strong probability he was making a declaration of principle. At a 1 event, the element of doubt was regarded as sufficiently strong to warrant casting it out.

Some messages were couched in humorous vein. Where the humor embodied an underlying bit of sound philosophy. "I am a wet," wrote one, "and I am cheap. I found the waste basket instead of the ballot box. On the other hand, ill-natured diatribes against demon rum, as well as exhortations of the whole principle of prohibition in general and the Volstead law in particular are being accepted in good faith by the arbiters of this contest.

Many of the telegrams contained interesting information as to the remote distances at which announcements of the referendum had been picked up on some made one tube sets. One boy in Lower Texas boasted that he picked up Edgewater Beach frequently on a crystal set. Many women voted, but it was as yet too early to determine whether there is a preponderance of sex sentiment one way or the other.

The idea of the vote was conceived by E. F. MacDonald, Jr., who has charge of the Zenith-Edgewater Beach station.

"At dinner some evenings ago," he said, "a very good friend of mine, a prohibitionist, and I were arguing the prohibition question. He made the statement and kept repeating throughout the evening, that not more than three per cent. of the country wants light wines and beers and is perfectly satisfied with the Volstead law as it stands.

"I did not believe this, but told him I should take steps to find out. He was one of the judges, this friend of mine, and made practically all the rules that governed the contest. I think now he knows how the country stands.

An idea of the immense interest locally was shown at every telegraph station in and near this city. Telegraph officials reported today that when the dead line arrived Sunday night there were more than five hundred telegrams unsent, with from three hundred to a thousand would be voters in line outside some of the branch offices.

Brothers and Sisters Create Sculpture Masterpiece

THE MARCH BROTHERS AND SISTER UNDER TWO OF THE BRONZE FIGURES OF THE MEMORIAL REPRESENTING LIBERTY AND SOUTH AFRICAN SOLDIER LEIT TO RIGHT: PERCIVAL, DUDLEY, WALTER, ELSIE, HARRY, EDWARD, SWDNEY AND VERNON

By MILTON BRONNER

FARNBOROUGH, England, Mar. 11.—This little village not so far from London, will some day be famous as the home of the most remarkable family in Great Britain if not in the world.

It's the March family, consisting of seven brothers and one sister, all unmarried and all artists. Each supplements the work of the others, and helps form the world's chief artistic team.

The products of their studios are to be seen in three continents. They are found in great public squares and in the drawing rooms of great mansions.

There are other families in which some brothers and sisters have been artists, but others have strayed into business or law or medicine or matrimony. Not so the Marches.

Out here they have established a regular beehive of studios and casting furnaces.

Each a Specialist

Sydney March, the eldest, is a sculptor. Edward, next him in age, is a distinguished portrait painter. They studied at the Royal College of Arts and at the Royal Academy Schools. The other brothers and sisters, with the exception of Vernon, studied at the Hull School of Arts. Vernon was taught by the rest of the family.

In the family team work, Vernon now does the modeling and designing for sculptural works. Harry carves in marble. Percy and Walter do the bronze casting. Dudley, skilled in jewel setting, adds to the sculptures the finishing touches with so much detail that each button on a soldier's uniform is perfectly engraved. The sister, Miss Elsie, both paints and models.

Among their famous sitters for either busts or portraits were the king and queen of England, Dowager Queen Alexandra and the late Lord Kitchener. They have just completed a great war memorial in bronze for Capetown, South Africa, and are now at work on a great monument to be erected at Orillia in Ontario, Canada, to commemorate the tercentenary of the great explorer Samuel de Champlain.

Said Sydney to me:

Pulling Together

"It's a wonderful advantage having all my brothers and my sister as fellow artists. We don't have to go outside the family for anything. "The ordinary sculptor has to rely on a great deal upon hired help for various things. Here we do everything ourselves from the most delicate artistic work to the mechanical labor connected with producing a big piece of sculpture.

"We built our studios, equipped the furnaces for the bronze casting and we do the casting ourselves. In other words, we see the work thru from the original design to the completed object. We get a team work that would be impossible otherwise. "It represents the best of what the whole family can put into it. It is the nearest thing I know to the family spirit that animated some of the artists in the palmist days of Italy."

Not Friel Allen Is Norfolk's Belief But Is J. R. Parker

The man who left Danville shackled and in custody of Police-Detective Nowitzky and who spent several hours here Friday night was not Friel Allen, as suspected, but a car thief believed to be J. R. Parker, alias George Albright, a former Norfolk police officer, it is now virtually assured. Allen is in California and in business there.

Of the man who attracted considerable attention here Friday night between trains while the Norfolk-Virginian-Pilot prints this interesting story:

J. R. Parker, alias George Albright, former Norfolk policeman and suspected gangster, came back to Norfolk to play the role of "man of mystery," sullen, defiant and profane.

Parker arrived yesterday morning from New Orleans in custody of Detective Nowitzky, to face a charge of grand larceny and of the alleged theft of an automobile last fall. He was arrested in New Orleans with a gang of alleged automobile thieves and bank robbers who may connect him with the murder and with a lurid career of banditry.

Parker rented an automobile in Norfolk last fall and drove it to Kansas City, where he was arrested on a charge of theft of the machine and held for Norfolk authorities. Detective Allen, sent to Kansas City to bring the prisoner back, was en route with him when Parker made his escape. He was handcuffed to a Pullman berth, but the handcuffs were saved free and the prisoner jumped from the speeding train in the night, near Salter, Mo.

"Friel Allen" Resemblance
After his arrest in Kansas City police authorities in Suffolk identified a picture of Parker as the likeness of a man known in that vicinity as Friel Allen. Parker, acquaintances asserted, had worked in Suffolk under that name. The real Friel Allen, however, it has been learned, left Virginia shortly after his release from prison, where he served until pardoned for his connection with the Carroll county courthouse tragedy seven years ago, for California, where he is said to be now engaged in real estate business.

Parker refused to verify the identification yesterday. He was sullen about it and let it be known that it was a matter of indifference to him what the police thought about it. Detective Nowitzky, who traveled with him from New Orleans, said his efforts to obtain explanation of the man's antecedents had been futile.

It is therein that Parker has become, to a high degree, a man of mystery. Nowitzky said when he was bringing him back from the far South, Parker manifested a remarkable familiarity with the towns and cities through which they passed. He said Parker frequently would call attention to certain points, indicating that he had been familiar with those sections before he was a member of the Norfolk police force.

Noncommittal About Career
When a representative of the Virginian-Pilot saw Parker in a cell in the police headquarters yesterday morning he was noncommittal as to the details of his career. He intimated, however, that he expected the police to meet with considerable difficulty in proving his connection with various crimes that had been hinted at.

"I'm not going to tell you anything," he said. "I don't care what the police do. All I want to do is to see this thing through life a man, and to see my wife and children." Parker's wife and two babies have been in Norfolk at the Door of Hope, the woman's branch of the Union Mission, ever since Parker was arrested in Kansas City. They were sent here by a Kansas City charity institution and placed in care of Dr. H. H. Kratzig, superintendent of the Mission. Parker will be allowed to see them, the police said.

"I'm sorry I had to get away from Allen," Parker told members of the police identification bureau yesterday when his finger prints and measurements were being taken. He spoke of his experiences with nonchalance, and there was about him an unmistakable air of bravado.
Here Parker said he had been in Norfolk about four weeks ago, he told the Virginian-Pilot man, "but the police didn't know anything about it. I came to find my wife and children, but I couldn't find them."

JAIL NEWS

Two Marion (O.) men had a fight over a horse trade, this being a quaint old American custom.

Dr. Kratzig said Parker had known all along where his wife and children were. He said they had received money from him.
"I came here just as soon as I got out of jail at Indianapolis," Parker said. "I was in there for carrying a gun, and paid my fine."
The murder of a detective in Indianapolis occurred about the time Parker is known to have been associated with an alleged gang of bandits, members of which were arrested with him at New Orleans in the theft of an automobile in Terre Haute, Ind. Parker was not charged with the theft of that car, and the other members of the gang were taken back to Indiana. He was held in New Orleans for the Norfolk police. The gang is suspected of the Indianapolis murder.

Parker beguiled the tedium of the trip to Norfolk from New Orleans by relating some aged experiences to Nowitzky, the latter said yesterday. The experiences dealt, he said, with the man's supposed brushes with the police of the Middle West, in which he was in all cases were outwitted. Nowitzky said the man was either a fiction artist of the first order, or had been leading a life of wild adventure and crime.

Declaring He Was Drunk
"You'll never find out anything about me," was Parker's defiance to the police when he arrived here. He declared he was drunk when he stole the automobile. Norfolk police said that when Parker was arrested in New Orleans he had a dozen saws concealed about his person, some of them sewed in his belt, others sewed in the ribbing of his undershirt. Even after the man was released from New Orleans jail to be brought to Norfolk he had concealed about him several clips of .45 caliber pistol cartridges, Nowitzky said.

White Parker did not discuss the subject the police were convinced that he had brought into play concealed saws to release himself from the handcuffs with which he was manacled when he slipped away from Detective Allen. He said he broke his arm in the jump from the train, after which he walked to Salter, and from there rode a freight train to Kansas City, saw his wife, narrowly escaped capture by the police and then left the city.

Police were convinced Parker was not Friel Allen, but simply had taken that name at one time or another, along with other aliases which he is believed to have used. They are skeptical of the name of Parker the man now uses, too. He is still the man of mystery, and finger print studies probably will disclose the true status of his past.

LOCAL BAPTISTS WILL RAISE THEIR FULL QUOTA

The Baptist churches of this city will be engaged during the remainder of this year in raising their full quota of the Seventy-five Million fund undertaken by this denomination in the South a few years ago. The Moffett Memorial church, it is understood, has raised a larger percentage of its quota than any other church in the city. The First Baptist church with a quota assignment of about $58,000 pledged for the congregation about $86,000. Already the congregation has paid up about $56,000 and will direct its energies to raising the remainder of the sum pledged, less deductions because of deaths, business failures or removals from the city before the end of the current year.

The money thus raised by the Baptists is divided among several causes, of which missions and education are the largest shares, and as a result of the educational portion of the big fund being raised an impetus has been given to all the colleges and schools under the direction and patronage of the denomination, including Averett College of this city.

UNIQUE CASE ARISES IN STATE OF CALIFORNIA

Dry Agents Violate Law in Rounding Up Lawbreaker—Tap Wires to Get Evidence on Bootleggers and This Is Felony in State.

By L. C. OWEN

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—Is it permissible to break one law in order to enforce another?

This complex question just now is agitating several district attorneys in California as well as the heads of some federal bureau, and it is probable that before the answer is forthcoming the problem will be passed up to high government heads in Washington for a final decision.

Federal prohibition agents in California have been tapping private telephone wires in order to secure evidence of bootlegging. California has a law which makes wire-tapping a felony, punishable by one to five years imprisonment and $5,000 fine.

The wire-tapping activities of the dry agents, according to information already gathered by civil authorities have been carried on for many months and have resulted in many arrests and convictions. They were kept a secret, however, until a discharged prohibitionist made a sworn confession baring the intimate details of the wire-tapping in dozen case lots.

Some of the wires tapped were those of wealthy and prominent persons accustomed to ordering their illicit liquors in dozen case lots. When the confession of the discharged prohibition agent was made public, other agents alleged by him to have participated in the wire-tapping admitted the charges but on the grounds that their acts were "in a righteous cause."

The strange part of the whole proceeding is that district attorneys of San Francisco and Los Angeles are virtually powerless to move against the wire-tappers for another State law provides that a man cannot be convicted on his own statements, and the statements of the discharged dry agent is held sufficient. The prohibition enforcement department and other government bureaus which could furnish the district attorneys with the necessary evidence refuse to do so.

The refusal, however, is based upon "rules and regulations" laid down by such bureau as Washington, specifically prohibiting them from doing so.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, March 10.—"Monticello," once the home in Albemarle county, Virginia, of Thomas Jefferson, to which title lately was acquired by the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation, is bequeathed by the will of the late Jefferson M. Levy, died today, to his sister, Amelia L. Mayhoff, of New York, to whom all of Mr. Levy's other property also will go. The will was dated September 28, 1923.

Stuart G. Gibboney president of the Jefferson Foundation, declared last week that the foundation had acquired title to "Monticello" by an initial payment of $100,000 on the purchase price of $500,000. He said Mr. Levy's death would not interfere with the plans to make the other installment payments and to raise $1,000,000 to support "Monticello" as a permanent Jeffersonian Memorial.

What would happen if Coolidge sleep late one morning and failed to get to the office in time to meet the daily crisis?

How to Make a Million

CLARENCE SAUNDERS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Mar. 11.—The average man can make a million dollars.

And he can do it easily, according to Clarence Saunders, dethroned King of the Piggly Wiggly chain of stores.

Saunders piled up a fortune of three million dollars then lost it trying to buck Wall Street.

He signed a bankruptcy petition and said, "I'll make all this back in a year or two—and then some."

Saunders, however, is perfectly willing to let others in on his secret. He lays down 10 commandments for those who would be his disciples. Here they are:

1.—Thou shalt work hard, and thou shalt have confidence in thy own ability.

2.—Thou shalt be loyal to thyself and loyal to thy fellow man with truthful appraisal of each and every task and its result.

3.—Thou shalt render service to others for success and wealth merely is the outward fruits of service mutually rendered.

Don't Be Selfish
4.—Thou shalt cast aside selfish interests, for they are the stumbling stones to success.

5.—Thou shalt forget all thought of immediate reward for thy industry.

6.—Thou shalt desire to do, and thou shalt have the courage to stand back of thy convictions, no matter what the price might be.

7.—Thou shalt be impersonal in discarding every impediment—personal or otherwise—in safeguarding everything that will promote success.

8.—Thou shalt repel illusions of every kind as they concern the human machine.

9.—Thou shalt find personality the biggest asset or greatest weakness of any man, for it reflects character.

Service First
10.—Thou shalt preserve thy bodily health, mental clarity and spiritual understanding, for these are the foundations of the Gibraltar of Success.

"If you get a good idea, pull it to pieces and then reconstruct it, leaving out the weak points," says Saunders.

"The average man, who sets out to make a fortune, has the idea that he must get all he can for as little as possible."

"The only way to gain wealth is to show the other fellow your proposition will benefit him. Make him see you are giving him a bargain and he is the one who will reap the big benefit."

MUSCLE SHOALS FOLK REJOICE.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 10.—Citizens of the Tennessee Valley reported the greatest celebration since the armistice on receipt of news that the House had passed the McKenzie bill providing for the leasing of Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford.

At Sheffield, Florence and Decatur and Huntsville, and other points citizens gathered on the courthouse lawns or other central places. Bon fires, ringing of bells and blowing of automobile horns signified the elation over passage of the bill.

Remembering Ford's promise to build an industrial cities several miles long, citizens expect a boom provided he is finally given the right to develop on the shoals property.

RADISH:

The Sportsman

By Walter Camp

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
NEW YORK, Mar. 11.—The Olympic committee did a good job at its session last Saturday in prohibiting members of the team from writing. The question was not one of professionalism but attending strictly to the job of competing for which the country has chosen them as representatives and is paying their way. Any divided allegiance or any possible source of disintegration must be absolutely taboo. The selection of trainers was a good one, on the whole, although the writer is not entirely sure about the division of their duties, and it is to be hoped that some of them will at least be consulted upon other branches than the ones upon which they are specifically aligned.

Those who were aviation trainers and gave their services in wartime will assuredly make good in the work. Laws on Robertson and Tom Keane have developed great sprinters and Walter Christie has shown phenomenal genius in building event men. There is one officer which has not been established and which the committee might have added and that is "peace commissioner."

RICKARD CABLES SPALLA OFFER TO COME TO U. S.

NEW YORK, Mar. 11.—Tex Rickard has cabled Emilio Spalla, the Italian heavyweight who is still in the Argentine, an offer to come to America and take on a few of our best heavyweights. Spalla is the youngest of the fourteen rounds the other day in Buenos Aires with Luis Firpo. Spalla is evidently bigger in defeat than the Argentinian is in victory.

The fact it took Firpo so long to throw Spalla away won't help him toward another crack at Jack Dempsey. Firpo's loss to Clean is on his way here even while Firpo is losing prestige at home and abroad.

They are going to give Paul Berlenbach, the clouting Kentucky middleweight, some tougher opposition at Las Vegas. Delany of Bridgeport is elected to meet the K. O. exponent for twelve rounds in Madison Square Garden on Friday night. Del-aney can hit and is clever enough to make Berlenbach step a few. Allowing that, Berlenbach has had a lot of soft spots, there isn't any question but that he is one of the greatest hitters who has come up in something like a quarter of a century. He hasn't shown yet, however, whether he can "take it."

Willie Kohler, Brooklyn featherweight, is to make a reappearance in the ring at the Broadway exhibition club Tuesday night against Frankie Edwards for ten rounds.

Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute bantam, the other night in Milwaukee, gave Pancho Villa a beating. Now negotiations are in progress to bring Taylor here for a battle with Frankie Genaro for Sonny Smith. Genaro and Taylor have met before. Augie Ratner and Larry Estridge have been rematched for twelve rounds at the Commonwealth sporting club on Saturday night.

Yesterday's answer:
The drawing shows how the land was divided. The father took the center plot, which formed a square, each side half as long as the outer square, and which, therefore, contained one-fourth the area of the land. Each son had an equal plot in size and shape, and the father had an equal fragment on each plot owned by a son.

NEWARK APPEARS TO WANT BERLENBACH VERY MUCH INDEED

(By the Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, March 10.—The controversy out of the match between Paul Berlenbach, New York middleweight, with Jack Delaney, of Bridgeport, Conn., at Madison Square Garden last Friday night, despite protests of Newark promoters, will be shown by the State Athletic commission at its regular weekly meeting tomorrow.

Officials of the Newark Sportsman's club for whom Berlenbach wanted to fight Jackie Clark, of Allentown, Pa., last Monday night, contend they have a prior claim to Berlenbach's services and that his bout with Delaney violates the New Jersey boxing code which prevents a boxer from participating in two bouts within 72 hours.
Pat Adams, chief inspector of the New Jersey commission, advised Tex Rickard today that since no information of the Jersey laws had yet occurred he had no ground for interfering with the match. Adams, however, stated that he would press their claims and possibly request a hearing to prevent Berlenbach from fulfilling his engagement this week.

With Herb Murphy here and a score or more of his kind on the way, Danville baseball stock is due for a sudden rise.

In a couple more weeks, Stoneville Jackson park will become the center of local sporting interest as the fundom goes out to view the Tobacco-nist hopefuls.

High Point has on their exhibition schedule a couple of games with Asheville, the band new member of the Sully League. Bob Higgins, who will handle the steering mechanism of the Mountain City's Hopefuls, will have one hum-dinger of a ball club this summer if training counts for anything. Sir Robert is having his battery men report this week and the whole works is due to show up shortly. It's still sure enough winter time up in the Blue Ridge eagle's nest but that doesn't faze Bob a little bit. He is calmly going about his preparations as if the sun was bearing down with July zeal and the annual crop of summer gawkers were on hand jabbering over the wonderful views.

Reidsville took unto themselves the high school basketball laurels of the Old North State Saturday night by virtue of their victory over Wilmington at Chapel Hill. The Reidsvillians won by a one point margin only but that was enough to make them the High School champs and so everybody at Reidsville was happy. Quite a little celebration was put on in the home town on receipts of the gladsome tidings.

The baseball season got started Saturday. The most interesting thing in the Sunday morning papers was the brief notice: Chicago, 4; Vernon, 1.

Friend Joseph Shimkus seems to be cultivating a habit of putting "em out of the way for the night on one fall. Zeke Smith got the breeze bunched out of him at the hands of the alleged Lithuanian recently and Pete Sturgis got twisted out of the running the other night.

This week will hear the first peep of the baseball birdie in town when Coach Wilson trots out the baseball team to the high school and begins sifting the wheat from the chaff at the City Hall.

Thank Heaven, Charlotte has at last decided on a plot of the 1924. Governor Roy Kennedy fell heir to the throne this year but the sport writers of the erstwhile Carolina metropolis have signed at least half a dozen before the estimable Felix and Bud got seriously down to business and elected Ray.

Everybody who follows the national game around the Piedmont will sympathize with Red Iroy in the death of his daughter who was killed by an automobile the other day.

Babe Ruth Says Pitchers Due to Have Their Day

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Mar. 11.—Babe Ruth, home-run king of the universe, doesn't look for swatting to be as prevalent this year as in past seasons.
Babe figures that batting will surely slump if the umpires are more careful about tossing new balls into play.

"During the last few months of the American League season when the umpires were using only about half as many new balls as formerly I found it far more difficult to get distance to my drives," says Ruth.

"For several years baseball in its major leagues has been played almost entirely with a new ball. The slightest excuse would be sufficient to have an old ball thrown out and a brand new one put in play."

"The almost constant new ball was great for the batters, but mightier tough on the pitchers. If the umpires lighten up on the ball question, batting is sure to slump."

The full moon nearest to Sept. 21 is popularly known as the "harvest moon." This is because the moon then rises for several consecutive evenings at nearly the same hour, giving an unusual number of moonlight evenings.

SURE HARRIS WILL DELIVER

Manager Lee Fohl doesn't figure that he has weakened the Red Sox in the least by sending First Baseman George Burns from Boston to Cleveland.

"Joe Harris will play first base and I am sure will perform acceptably. Critics say the Sox will miss the hitting of Burns. Harris who will play first batted .335 last year. Burns .325. That settles that argument as to first base. Robby Veach, secured from Detroit, will make up for the loss of Burns from a batting standpoint."

Great Alex Instructs Rookie

G. ALEXANDER, B. OSBORNE
CATALINA ISLAND, Calif., March 11.—Manager Bill Killefer of the Chicago Cubs looks to his veteran star pitcher, Grover Alexander, to round out the crop of rookie pitchers he has collected. Alexander boasts one of the best curve balls in the majors. Here we have him showing a recruit, Bobby Osborne, late of Wichita Falls, Tex., how he throws it.

Pink Gardner Will Meet Zeke Smith Next Friday Night

The local mat fans will have a real treat handed to them on Friday evening of this week when "Pink" Gardner, of Schenectady, New York, will wrestle Zeke Smith, of Richmond, Virginia. Gardner and Smith are both American born and are two of the cleanest wrestlers in the game. Daniel J. Duval, who is a sport writer of national fame, has this to say of Gardner:

"Carroll 'Pink' Gardner, Schenectady's claimant to the middleweight wrestling championship is one of the leading middleweight wrestlers of the world and his ability to more than hold his own with any of the famous grapplers in his class is known wherever the wrestling flourishes. He has met and defeated all of the leading lights in the middleweight division as well as hundreds of other applicants who are not so well known."

"Pink" is in his prime, now. He is still a young man in years, but a veteran in experience. He is the acme of physical perfection and never was in better shape for strenuous wrestling than at the present time. As all those who have watched him know, he is like chained lightning, unusually aggressive and works at a relentless pace that, with few exceptions, wears out his opponent. He is a quick thinker and his brain work has netted him many victories over men who are less quick to size up the situation. Above all things "Pink" Gardner is a true representative of the ideal American sportsman. He is always out to win, but only by fair means. Never has a well substantiated report reached the writer of "Pink" being anything else but sportsmanlike. A leader in his branch of sport, Schenectady is proud of him and the wonderful record he has made."

Zeke Smith, who has participated in several bouts here, is well-known to the local fans, and is a skilled wrestler of unusual ability. Gardner, the New York champion, will meet Smith in the opening match of the season and Smith won from Shimkus in his last appearance here.

Arrangements are now being perfected for one preliminary match, which will be announced at a later date.

This bout on account of being one of the few all-American cards before the public today, will no doubt be witnessed by one of the largest crowds of the season.

Crossed Up Rivals

BY BILLY EVANS
When Hughy Jennings, famous baseball leader, now assisting John McGraw in handling the New York Giants, gives an order he wants it carried out. Thereby hangs an interesting tale.

Some years ago on the Detroit club then managed by Jennings, was a player named Hank Perry, a hard-hitting outfielder. Perry had his faults, but he certainly could hit the old pill. And what is more, he liked to take his healthy swing at all times.

Jennings, like all wise big league managers, figures that every successful major league player must have a certain amount of brains and there are times when he should use them.

The Athletics were playing in Detroit. In the old days coming between these two clubs were always red-hot affairs. Late in the game with the Athletics leading by a run the first Detroit batsman hit safely.

The next batter was Perry. Jennings instructed him to bunt in order

NIXON WINS HIS WRESTLING MATCH WITH MISS MERCEREAU

GREENSBORO, March 10.—Harry Nixon, wrestling copper, journeyed over to High Point Friday night and appeared in a bout with Miss Virginia Mercereau, woman wrestling champion. It was a finish bout and the copper won in two straight falls.

Miss Mercereau, however, did not lose her reputation to never having been thrown in a 15-minute handicap bout, for, try hard as he could, Nixon failed to pin the lady in less than 2:12. He did this with a headlock, the third that he has tried to down the young woman, with only to see her wriggle loose each time.

In the second stanza the copper pinned her shoulders in 7:11 with an overbody scissors hold. The woman made a distinct hit with the fans attending promoter Dixie Rhee's affair at the Mills building there, and were loud in their praises for her work, returning fans reported. They wanted to see her in a handicap bout with the furniture city's local favorite, George Nicholson. They wanted this to come off next Friday night.

FOR THE GAMES SAKE

BY LAWRENCE PERRY

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
NEW YORK, Mar. 11.—One thing that has been demonstrated by the big indoor meets thus far—notably the national indoor championships of the A. A. U. in this city last week—is that the American Olympic commission has got to rely pretty much upon the veterans for our success at Paris this summer.

Very few stars indeed have cropped up within the past two years. Outstanding performers, that is to say, champions, can be numbered upon the fingers of one hand, not counting the thumb and still have some fingers left over. The one blazing light seems to be Ralph (Bruno) Hills, of Princeton, who at the national meet, broke Pat MacDonald's sixteen pound shot record by four inches. Hills' put being 37 feet 11 1/2 inches.

Otherwise youngsters who leaped forth with much promise have fallen by the wayside and it still remains for the Rays and the Murchisons and Osbornes to carry our banner to the fore.

Sometime it will occur to the Olympic committee that if it necessary to function in the practical way of encouraging the development of track specialists in years other than olympic years. A bit now, such things as left to the colleges and athletic clubs, the olympic men sitting in every four years in a selective capacity. A definite national effort toward the encouragement of track and field sports, a definite controlled effort year in and year out would be more appropriate to a country which has the reputation for intensive effort without doing a great deal to merit that reputation.

The writer sometime ago called attention to the numerous head injuries that occur in hockey, stating that these could be prevented by proper protective armor. Now Princeton has passed a rule that her hockey players in practice and in matches must wear leather headguards. Very good indeed, surely authorities of other hockey playing colleges will realize they are not doing their full duty to the boys in their charge if they do not enact a similar stipulation.

Manager of Washington Club Gives His Baseball Theories

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 11.—Stanley Harris, youngest manager in the American League, has no pet schemes to bring in his debut as a big league leader. He says his only ambition is to make good, and if hard work will accomplish his goal he will get there.

Here are a few of Harris' observations on the game and how it should be played:

"Baseball fans like a hustling ball club. That is the kind of a team Washington is going to be.

"The Nationals may not prove to be the greatest ball club in the world, but it will be trying all the time.

"Hustle and effort cover a multitude of sins on the ball field. The fan will overlook a lot of mistakes if he knows you are giving him your best.

"I am no believer in a code of rules that the players must follow. I favor putting a man on his honor. It invariably brings the best results.

"The player who fails to take the game seriously, doesn't keep in shape is his own worst enemy.

"One mark of such a player will soon suffer as a result of his indiscretions.

"If possible, I much prefer getting results by putting the situation up to the player, placing him on his honor. Players who fail just when the system are scarcely worth fussing about.

Dempsey On Way to Pacific Coast

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Mar. 11.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, may have something interesting to say regarding the heavyweight situation and his plans for the summer during his few days here. En route to the coast from New York, the champion is due to arrive today.

Reports say the champion will be unable to fight for at least five months. Such a condition precludes possibilities of his engaging Tommy Gibbons or the winner of the proposed Wills-Firpo match. Rumor said that Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey and Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, had then signed with Tom Rickard, Eastern promoter, for Dempsey to meet Gibbons in New York in June.

The term cyclone was first applied to storms about the middle of the 19th century, after they were found to be circular in form.

DEMOCRATS ASSEMBLE FOR CONVENTION

(By the Associated Press.) BRISTOL, Va., March 10.—Democrat from all parts of the ninth Virginia congressional district are in Bristol tonight for the district convention to be held here tomorrow for the purpose of choosing a candidate for Congress.

The renomination of Congressman George C. Peery is expected to be only a matter of form as practically all the delegates have been instructed for him. Mr. Peery arrived here from Washington tonight.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, is scheduled to make the principal speech at the convention and is expected to arrive here in the morning from Washington. Arrangements announced tonight by district committees provided for District Chairman E. R. Combs to call the convention to order and for Howard C. Glimmer to act as temporary chairman.

NEW PROHIBITION LAW APPARENTLY EXCEPT BEDFORD

(By Associated Press.) RICHMOND, Va., March 10.—Officials and political observers were puzzled here tonight following the discovery that Virginia's new prohibition law, passed by the General Assembly which adjourned Saturday, apparently excluded from its provisions one of the hundred counties of the commonwealth.

Page 53 of the printed measure contains this paragraph: "This act shall not apply to Bedford county."

Legislative authorities agree that the "manifest intention" of the Assembly was that the statute should read, "this section," but quick examination of the engrossed bill found the word "act" on that document likewise. The section in which this startling omission refers to the shipment of ardent spirits to pharmacists.

SHOCKED 'EM!

It was quite a jolt to faculty members to behold William Kerr and Priscilla Perry, University of Chicago students, in this hugging picture. Now, William and Priscilla have quit the Dramatic Club's play, "Marry the Third," in which they were to appear as Cake-Eater and Sheba. Kerr and Perry contend publication of the picture as publicity was unauthorized.

Fifth of Nations Farms Had New Occupants in 1922

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 11.—Almost a fifth of the country's farms had new occupants in 1922. Nine Southern states showed changes in more than a quarter of their farms, the Department of Agriculture announced today after a survey of the situation, and only six states, all in New England, showed less than ten per cent change in their farm occupants. In most of the corn belt and western states, changes ranged from ten to fifteen per cent.

The chief cause of the turnover is believed by agricultural experts to be the attractiveness of new land which in the past has set up waves of migration among the farm population. Another cause is seen in the extent to which farm land has been bought and sold for investment and speculation. In addition, the rapid industrialization of the United States, besides producing a steady movement of population to the cities brings about constant changes in market opportunities and necessitates readjustments in systems of farming and in sizes of farms, while different classes of farmers in this country move in considerable number from one agricultural status to another.

Some shifting is more or less almost inevitable, and much of the fluidity represents desirable economic and social readjustment.

KILLINGS DECREASE
(By The Associated Press.)
ROANOKE, Va., March 11.—Twenty employees of the Norfolk & Western Railway Company, were killed in 1923, and 1,868 were injured, according to a statement by C. H. Blake, more chairman of the road's safety commission. These figures show a decrease of five in the number killed as compared with the record of 1922, and an increase of 305 in the number of injured.

The REFEREE

BY ALBERT APPLE

YOU
Every one pays taxes. Many think they escape, because they do not pay directly. But all pay, indirectly, many taxes passed on to them as additions to the prices of things they buy.

An illustration: The wrangle among congressmen about tobacco taxes, reveals that the buyer of a package of 20 cigarettes pays six cents tax to Uncle Sam. All pay. Few know it. It's concealed in the selling price. After all, indirect taxation is the less painful form of extraction.

Even the child buying a penny stick of candy pays tax.

DODGERS
Do you pay taxes on your furniture and other property to the extent of its full valuation?

From Washington comes a government report showing that the assessed valuation of all property in the United States, for taxation purposes, is about 125 million dollars.

That's a approximately half of the "national wealth."

So taxpayers, on the average, are 50 per cent truthful in reporting property for taxation.

ESCAPED
Proudly the national prohibition officers announce that in 1923 they arrested 44,523 people charged with violating the liquor laws.

How many violators escaped arrest? They certainly number into the millions. A national referendum is the only way to learn whether the prohibition amendment is government by majority or by minority.

JAIL FOR ANYBODY IN OIL SCANDAL? NOT VERY LIKELY

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Special Correspondent to The Bee)
Charles P. Stewart, member of the New Service Washington bureau, will write each week a story, which summarizes and explains the Washington oil situation. This will make it easier for you to follow the day-by-day wire stories with greater understanding. Here is his first story.)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11.—Is anybody apt to go to prison on account of the oil scandal? Doherty, for instance? Or Sinclair? Nobody in Washington thinks so. Fall's just possible he may be prosecuted. But not probable. Still less so that he'll do time.

There'll civil suits. The government will try to get back Elk Hills, Teapot Dome and land the Standard Oil Company of California holds. Denby has lost his job. Daugherty doubtless will lose his. Other jobs may be lost. There'll be a political effect, maybe a third party, maybe a chance for the House of Representatives to elect the next president. But jail for anybody? Not a bit likely.

The oil investigators have taken most of a week going through the Washington telegrams, sent to E. B. McLean, millionaire newspaper man, at Palm Beach last winter.

Why so much interest in McLean's telegrams?

Well, when the oil inquiry started, ex-Secretary of the Interior Fall, naturally objecting to have it known that he'd borrowed $100,000 from Doherty just before handing him Elk Hills, got McLean to pretend he'd made the loan, which had to be accounted for somehow, because Fall had used the money to buy a ranch and questions were being asked.

When the debt leaked out McLean was afraid it would be made very unpleasant for him on the witness stand before the investigators. So he did his best not to be called. Rafts of messages were sent to him, telling him what the prospects were.

The investigators reckon that a man who was willing to try to help Fall out, as McLean tried, must know a lot about the whole case. They are trying to learn from his telegrams just what he did know. They want to know, too.

Senator Heflin got an idea that two of McLean's telegrams, one from President Coolidge, investigation proved that he was right. The president explained, however, that one of them was about the appointment of a commissioner of the District of Columbia; the other thanked McLean for complimenting a speech he had made. A big splash has been made because they were from the president, but they don't appear to have much to do with oil.

Some of the oil investigators don't get along very well together.

Sensors Leno and Speed are accused of trying to hush the inquiry up.

Then somebody started the story that Senator Walsh had been corresponding with Doherty. Walsh promptly read the correspondence. It seems he called Doherty's attention to a letter from a man who wanted to interest some capitalist in Montana oil. Doherty said he would be in.

South In Grip of Icy Blast

(By The Associated Press.)
ATLANTA, Ga., Mar. 11.—An icy blast from the West today held the South in a tight grip with temperatures reported below freezing in many sections.

Extreme cold weather was reported in Virginia and the Carolinas, while weather bulletins say that the freezing mark was registered in Georgia as far south as the Florida line.

High winds and low temperatures were also reported in Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Locally the thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning recorded 24 degrees.

Government reports from Georgia's peach belt published early today, stated the cold wave, while it may slightly retard, will not appreciably affect the crop.
